New York, Nov. 28.—There was a moderate amount of activity in the stock market in the first hour of business tomarket in the first hour of business today, but after that time the movement of prices became utterly listless, with a tendency, if anything, toward heaviness.

Dealings in the first hour formed, in fact, an overshadowing proportion of the total amount of business transacted during the day. In the fore part of the day values, as a rule, rose, although gains of consequence were made in but a few stocks.

An advance of 2½ points in New York

Final net changes in prices exhibited about equally scattered gains and losses. The volume of the day's transactions was Tutal sales yesterday, 548,296 shares. only a little more than half as great as that of the recent daily average.

The apathy of the market to-day was attributed partially to the approach of to-morrow's holiday and partially to a slight stiffening in money rates and to a fear lest a "squeeze" in money should be ex-perienced over the end of the month. It must certainly be said that there has been nothing in the course of the money market thus far to warrant any great anxieties of this nature. The highest rate paid for call money to-day on the stock exchange was 7½ per cent, and in banking circles it was admitted that high prices for call funds might prevail dur-ing the next day or so; yet it was said that no recurrence of the extreme stringency of a month ago was likely.

Time money was in somewhat greater demand to-day, as high as 7½ being paid for sixty-day loans. Prospects of a strong bank statement on Saturday are btedly somewhat clouded by the loss of $3,000,000 by the local banks to th subtreasury in the week thus far, and further sum of $300,000 was sent by the banks to California through the sub treasury for agricultural necessities.

Look for Good Bank Statement. Dispatches from London were, howeve to the effect that another good bank statement by the Bank of England was anticipated to-morrow; and there seeme no abatement in the British capital of the Improvement in sentiment that has lately been witnessed there. The Bank of Eng land continues to gain large sums of gold from Paris and from the open market taking into its treasury $2,050,000 to-day from this source. It is said, however, tha fied rather vividly to the existing torpor of the market for investments.

There were no developments to-day influencing in even minor degree the course of the security market, nor more than one or two new happenings of a financial importance justifying comment. Gossip continued in a desultory fashion concerning the publication yesterday of the Union Pacific'c annual report.

The curb market was weaker than it has been for a considerable period. Special pressure seemingly being directed against Nipissing stock, which has been recently, the leading stock dealt in by the "outside" brokers.

The auction sale of 48,000 shares of Manhattan Elevated Railway stock on the real estate exchange, at a price which established a basis of dividend yield of per cent on this guaranteed security, testified rather vividly to the existing torpor

After all, it does not seem as if much that is new has been disclosed by the 41% Union Pacific annual report. The income account is the same as in the preliminary 2.000 87% 88% 87% 87% statement issued last August, except that "other income" is increased by the amount of the Southern Pacific dividend which had not been declared at the time the earlier report was compiled in the ummer. As for the securities owned they are of the same kind as a year ago only that a large portion of what were owned then has since been turned into cash. Possibly the company may ulti-mately invest this cash to better advantage, but taking at par the assertion of Mr. Hill that in the past year Great Northern paid dividends amounting to 14 per cent, it will not be easy to invest e proceeds of the large amount of Great Northern sold in a way to get a better re-turn on the investment. There was a short interest to be covered, besides a good deal of speculation for the rise, based on the technical position which the combination of a short interest and the whole floating supply by the Hill interests had created.

There is an object to be attained in allowing a stock to advance to pretty high figures when some interest seeking to should be accurately incompleted to cond

New York, Nov. 28.—On the eve of Thanksgiving many brokers thought it was something to be sincerely thankful for that the call money market did not rise above 71-2 per cent or remain long at that level.

While naturally Wall street was curious to learn the exact nature of the President's message, little real apprehension was felt regarding it, the prevailing opinion being that while some parts of the document could hardly be relished by the financial community, the recommendations for currency reform and ship subsidises would more than counterbalance the objectionable features.

A very serious mistake which many people in the street have made in estimating the value of the free assets of Union Pacific is the linculsion in that class of the stocks of the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Com-earnings, given in the annual report at upward of $67,000,000 gross, would fall correspondingly. There is much the same kind of "duplication" of capitalization here that a Western lawyer, in his ignortance of finance, charged against James J.
